It is evident from this that the pens was out of employ from the 16th Jany 1883 to the 24th November 1886. consequent on the abolition of the Arkalgud Taluk. This period is no interruption entailing forfeiture of past service (Vide clause d: art: 273 of the M.S.R.). So the pens commences his service in May 1879. Art: 235 of the M. S. A plain for his reentry into service, the Dy Comr says that the Ar Ralpur Taluk was abolished in Nov. 1882 & the peon was moved to Jo & Hathamunipur where he remained up to 15-1-1883. What he means by "remaining" is not clear. Did he remain out of employ at Hathamunipur or did he remain in service there? If the latter why should he have again been out of employ from 16-1-1883 to 24-11-1886 as stated in the Dy Comrs first report. If the former why does the Dy Comr reckon the period during which the peon was out of employment from 16-1-1883 and not from 27-11-1882 the date of abolition of the Ar Ralpur Taluk. The Dy Comr ought to have given clearer account of the services of the peon.
